The best solution to research body in snow

FIND US

We are a small fresh company located near fresh Alpes. We are currently trying to become the more used solution for finding enshroud victims in avalanche. The currents detectors often use special chips whereas ours use something all human being have in comming : a heart.

OUR SERVICES

- We are selling a software that use the VIVE tracker to detect any heartbeat within 15 meters, and then display the direction and intensity on the AR headset, so saves crews know where to search
- We also sell an “all in one” formula, where buyer have a day of training, our home-made headset with build'in sensors and pre-installed VIEVE software.
- Currently, we are working on an adaptation to make our solution usable even for other natural disaster than avalanches. The next evolution should be for eathquakes.

COLLABORATION

VIVE is our closest collaborator. In fact, they are the one who made this project possible by giving us half of what we needed. That's why all our solution is based and usable with VIVE tracker and VR headset.
